Hanna, of the National Bank of North America, said that outside of the $105 in cash which has been found, "not much has been turned up, but there are still several places unsearched."

From an authoritative source, it was learned that the National Bank of North America loaned to Mr. Morse more than the $243,000 for which Hanna is seeking to find collateral. It was said to-day by a man who is' in close touch with the examination being made, that when Mr. Hanna makes his final report it will be found that Morse owes considerably more than the one loan of $243,000, for which there is apparently no collateral to guarantee. Mr. Hanna was asked about the report to-day, and while he would not admit that Mr. Morse did owe more than the one loan referred to, he said he would not deny that there might tral shortly after 1 o'clock, and was acbe other loans which would have to re-ceive attention later, companied by her nurse, A.
